SCHOOL KIDS SKIPPING BREAKFAST ARE MISSING HEALTHY BRAIN FUEL

A national Healthwatch survey in Australia has revealed that a disturbing number of children 'wag' breakfast claiming there is 'no time' to eat, they are 'too tired' or 'can't be bothered' having a meal before going to school.

The survey found that 22% of parents interviewed said their children skip breakfast on three to five school days of each week, and a further 20% skip breakfast on one or two school days. The remaining 58% of parents said their school aged children always ate breakfast before school.

Chief Medical Officer Dr Christine Bennett said, 'It is disturbing to find that 42% of children are sent to school on one or more days on an empty stomach because it sends a clear message at an early age that breakfast isn't important. Wagging breakfast is the healthy lifestyle equivalent of driving your car on an empty petrol tank – it inevitably runs out when you most need it. Research shows that skipping breakfast results in reduced learning, reduced attention and poor food choices for the rest of the day.

Children who skip breakfast are more likely to be overweight which in the long term can lead to the development of chronic health problems. Children who miss out on breakfast are also less likely to get the recommended intake of dairy, fruit and vegetables,' she said.

Asked why their children missed out on breakfast before school, just over half of parents said there was no time because of the pressure of being late for school or work or because of sleeping in.

'Parents should encourage their children to eat breakfast. Storing a few simple ingredients in the cupboard or fridge or organising breakfast the night before can help in the morning rush. Healthy shakes and cereal bars are great for eating on the way to school. Toast, yoghurt and fruit are also quick, easy options,' Dr Bennett said.

Viewed nationally, the Healthwatch survey showed that children missed breakfast at an average rate of 1.2 days a week – Tasmanian children were least likely to miss breakfast at 0.6 while Queensland and Western Australia had the worst record for breakfast 'wagging' at 1.4 and 1.5 days respectively.

'With many competing demands, we know that Australian families live in a 'time poor' society but the importance of making time for children to enjoy a healthy breakfast before going to school cannot be overstated,' Dr Bennett said. 'It can be the start of a lifetime of healthy eating habits,' she said.

- 1 According to the survey there are more children who go to school on an empty stomach. ☐
- 2 If kids skip breakfast they can't run in the PE lesson. ☐
- 3 Without breakfast kids eat unhealthy food at school. ☐
- 4 In the morning most children don't eat because there is no time for it. ☐
- 5 Parents should offer their children a choice of breakfast cereals. ☐
- 6 Eating while going to school is very unhealthy. ☐
- 7 There are places in Australia where kids go to school without breakfast every day. ☐
- 8 Breakfast is considered to be the most important meal for schoolkids. ☐
- 9 Not having breakfast is the same with driving your car without any petrol. ☐
- 10 You should eat eggs for breakfast, because it's very healthy. ☐

'Hotel of the famous'. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?
Circle the correct answer.

HOTEL OF THE FAMOUS

What would your life be like if you were Albert Einstein? What clothes would be in your wardrobe if you were Marilyn Monroe? Or Madonna?

Well, now you can discover the answer to all these questions and many more at the Fame Hotel in California. Ten miles outside Los Angeles, the Fame Hotel promises to answer the question 'What if?'. When you check into the hotel, you choose a room. Each room has a name. There's Clint Eastwood on the second floor and Elvis Presley on the third floor. In total, the Fame Hotel has 32 rooms, most of which are named after stars of Hollywood or music. But there are also famous writers, e.g. Mark Twain or Agatha Christie, and even some scientists and sports stars, such as Mike Tyson.

When you enter the room, you enter the life of that person. There are pictures everywhere. The owner of the hotel has tried to fill the room with objects, clothes, even food that he thinks the stars would have liked. Marilyn Monroe's wardrobe is full of beautiful white dresses, Albert Einstein doesn't have any socks in his wardrobe because the real Einstein never wore them! If you choose Mike Tyson's room, you'll be able to practice boxing in one corner of the room. And there's even a skipping rope too!

I spoke to one guest staying in the Elvis Presley room. 'I love this hotel', he said to me. 'I wanted to know 'What would Elvis Presley eat for breakfast?' and now I know'. That guest eats pancakes and strawberry ice cream every morning, just as Elvis liked to do. On the next table, the Einstein room's guest is eating cabbage soup!

The company plans to open another Fame Hotel in New York next year and there are plans to expand into Europe too. I look forward to staying in the Winston Churchill suite in London!

- 1 You can meet famous people in the hotel. T / F
- 2 Some famous people have stayed at the hotel. T / F
- 3 Guests are able to choose which room they stay in. T / F
- 4 Each guest eats something different in the hotel restaurant. T / F

FROM SCHOOL BULLY TARGET TO TEEN BLOGGER

I'm Joseph Black. Not a typical 17-year-old boy. A few years ago, I was overweight (yeah 120 kilos!!!), and I was bullied at school. I finally decided to take my health seriously, but packaged diet meals and quick fixes didn't help. Instead, I started cooking. I have changed my life.

Now 50 kilos lighter, I have won the respect of my classmates who once bullied me. It was horrible. But now it's much better. But I'm afraid I will be bullied again. Bullying is a very big problem at schools. What do you think?

I can't wait to arrive in Athens to see all that history. Let me tell you something about where we have visited so far. I know you want to come here on vacation too one day!

We started in England and we spent two days in London and another day in Canterbury. We saw a lot of great history and the only bad thing was the weather - it rained for the whole time we were there. Can you believe it?

Well, I have to say I prefer the American Disneyland. But we met some nice people from Canada and spent two great days with them. One of them, Clive, is going to your university next year. How's that for a coincidence!

After that, we went south into Switzerland. It was very expensive and we couldn't stay as long as we wanted to, so that's why we're in Italy now!

MUSIC IMPROVES YOUR WORKOUT1 _____

Experts say listening to music during exercise can give you a better workout in several ways. Scientists claim it can increase your endurance, boost your mood and can distract you from any discomfort experienced during your workout.

2 _____

Dr Robert Herdegen of America's Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia, looked at the effects of 12 men riding a bicycle for ten minutes while listening to music on one day. He compared it to the same men riding bicycles without music for ten minutes the following day.

On the days that the men exercised listening to music, they travelled 11 per cent further - compared to the days they didn't listen to music. Researchers also found that the men's levels of exertion were at their lowest when listening to music.

3 _____

show that listening to music releases endorphins - our natural 'feel good' hormones that lift our mood and give us motivation to carry on longer with exercise.

4 _____

The best type of music for exercise is thought to be high energy, high tempo music such as hip hop or dance music.
